Sexual Diversity Consciousness Raising

The growing numbers of lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, intersex and queer (LGBTIQ) people accessing aged care services represents an emerging and potentially challenging area for aged care workers. This training is designed as a consciousness raising journey to explore the impact of societal attitudes and assumptions on the LGBTIQ community as well as good practice criteria for working with older people who identify as LGBTIQ.

This workshop will give you an understanding of:

- ⚙ Historical experiences of LGBTIQ communities
- ⚙ Stereotypes, attitudes and assumptions
- ⚙ Impacts of discrimination
- ⚙ The importance of community for older LGBTIQ people
- ⚙ Sexual diversity in our community
- ⚙ Best Practice guidelines for human services
