

Community Transport Volunteer Companions Needed

Barossa & Light Community transport assists people to get to appointments. Volunteer drivers use Council cars.

Many clients are frail older people who don't have anyone to go with them. They may need help getting into the appointment or around the hospital or medical centre.

The volunteer companion will travel in the car with the client and driver. They will accompany the client into the appointment and be there when they are finished.

Suitable people for this role are patient, empathetic and friendly. Pushing a wheelchair may be necessary. Training will be given. A police check will be required. Flexible hours to suit the volunteer.
