The Tour through Williamstown has rolled away leaving us with some lovely compliments on our little town and community.

Williamstown was converted into a race track and boy what a track it was, as the riders looped through town not once but four times, making it a great spot to watch the riders at their best. From the Institute/Bar41 they passed seven times. It was exciting to watch the race leaders arrive making their way up George St as the peloton came into town. Then the leaders came along Little Para into Queen’s st and passed again as the peloton was not far behind. As the final lap was completed everyone moved to Colonist Corner to watch the race finish on the Big Screen cheering on Caleb Ewan as he crossed the finish line of Stage 1.

Sadly the weather didn’t play the game and gave us a little grief. After an emergency meeting the Sunday before I would like to thank The Barossa Council for extending our budget to purchase gazebo’s, umbrellas and misters, as we tried hard to keep everyone cool with misting tent and misting trees.

As cyclists converged on the town throughout the day they were greeted by the forest along the Duck Pond fence to represent the Forest to the Vines logo we have developed for The Southern Barossa. I spoke too many cyclist and it was interesting to hear how so many have travelled from all around Australia for the TDU. The race brought people through The Southern Barossa not just for the day, but on the weekend before we had cycling groups riding the course, as we were decorating the main street we met a group from New Zealand testing their strengths.
We had so many lovely compliments on the feel of Williamstown as a great community; others told us they had never felt so welcome to a town. We can be proud as we showed off to the world; locals decorated their homes making the streets of Williamstown come alive. Sue and David Poole won Stage 1 Best Dressed house. The Saunders family won Best Dressed paddock with a fantastic giant bike mowed into the grass, it made a colourful masterpiece from the sky.

Lyndoch hosted the finish stage winning the Stage and overall Best Dressed Town for TDU and showed again the great community feel we hold in the Southern Barossa. Thanks to all involved for your hard work in the lead up to this event and to those that came and helped decorate the town. We hope to have the opportunity to host the Tour Down Under next year in Williamstown.
Have you ever wondered about the name of parks in and around towns?

Grigg reserve is off Yetti Road

It has been decorated for Tour Down Under and it is fitting as the Grigg family hold a lot of history is in Cycling. Today the reserve it is used for parking and start of cycling groups through Williamstown.

The Grigg family lived in the old cottage near Grigg Reserve

Four generation of the Grigg family have achieved fame in cycling, with Nigel Grigg great grandson of Horace Grigg completing in the 1999 Sydney Olympic in Track Cycling.

For many years Queen Victoria Jubilee Park, Williamstown was the centre of many cycling competitions with competitors cycling to the Park then going around the oval three to four times. In the early years they didn’t the technologically sophisticated bikes like they do today and rode on dirt roads. All the Grigg brothers were great cyclists but Adam, Joseph, William and Adam were the ones noted most.

Adam and his brother Joseph rode their bicycle in the 116 miles road Championship of South Australia. It stared at Burra and finished at Port Adelaide in 1911 on dirt roads.

Blue ribbons were presented by the League of South Australia on the 10th June 1911

The Advertiser (Adelaide) Monday 12 June 1911

WON BY A. S. GRIGG ONLY FIVE FINISH - The Continental Road race for cyclists, was contested on Saturday in adverse weather conditions. The route was from Burra to the Alberton Oval, a distance of 116 miles, and to complete the course the riders had to circle the oval track five times. Owing to the bitterly cold, strong south-westerly wind-almost a gale-and the sloppy conditions which prevailed, Saturday’s event could hardly be called a race; it was more in the nature of a strenuous struggle with the elements. The feat of riding 116 miles at a racing pace on such a day was a test of endurance, and none but a strong frame and a stout heart had a chance of seeing it through. As a matter of fact, nine of the expected competitors did not face the Starter (Mr. A. C. White) at the Burra, and the field was thus reduced to 23. Only five of these covered the course to a conclusion on Saturday, the others having in the meantime “thrown up the sponge” in the face of such uncongenial weather. Messages to the secretary of the League of Wheelmen (Mr. E. P. Hodge) at Alberton Oval, from Kapunda and Gawler, informed those who were waiting for the finish as to how the riders were faring and the probable time of the finish, and about 200 enthusiasts patiently awaited the result. Three of the competitors - A. S. Grigg, S. J. Tobin, and W. E. Grigg, having passed through Gawler in that order shortly after 4 o’clock, they were expected to put in an appearance at about 6.30. By this time the cycling and whippet races, which had been held during the afternoon, had long since finished and darkness had set in. The light from the moon somewhat relieved matters, however. A. S. Grigg and Tobin at last entered the oval together, and were heartily cheered as they rode round the track.
As to the final issue, it was a case of a good “big one” against a good “little one,” and Grigg, having the advantage in size and muscle, sprinted home several lengths ahead of Tobin. The winner was carried to the dressing-room in the pavilion shoulder-high by a batch of enthusiasts from Williamstown, which is Grigg home town, who had made the journey to the city to witness the finish of the event. The excitement caused by the arrival of the first two had scarcely died down when W. E. Grigg, a scratch rider, entered the enclosure, accompanied by several of the competitors who had entered from the contest at Kapunda and made the rest of the journey by train. W. E. Grigg finished 18 min. 36 1-5 sec. behind the winner (his brother), and as the latter was in receipt of a handicap of 25 minutes, W. E. Grigg secured fastest time by a margin of 6 min. 23 4-5 sec. Walter Grigg, a third member of the Grigg family—four of whom started in the race—finished at 7 hr. 10 min. 33 sec., and E. P. Mariner put in an appearance at 8.30. By this time the officials had left, and to ensure his efforts being recognised Mariner rode to the residence of the secretary at Rosewater, where his wants were attended to, and thence to the oval for a shower bath. A. S. Grigg, the winner, finished fairly fresh, but the other four were just about “done up” when they dismounted. Mariner, who was over 10 hours on the road, was in a particularly bedraggled condition.

As the winner was rubbed down after a bath he was heartily congratulated by those who had gained an entrance to the dressing-room. “I feel a bit tired, I can tell you.” he said. “The riding has been bad going all the way. I came through without a puncture.” He is a well-built muscular man, and appeared to be in splendid condition. Tobin, who resides at Exeter, is much smaller and lighter. He said Grigg got away from him after leaving Gawler, and though he managed to overhaul his opponent the effort left him without any reserve for a sprint on the track. W. E. Grigg was the real hero of the race, however. A few days ago he broke a rib by a fall while mining at Williamstown, and he still wore bandages. His medical attendant had advised him that if he started in the race he would not complete it. Grigg stated that he had felt considerable pain from the fractured rib during the day. He finished second in the Continental race last year, and subsequently won the Norwood Cycling Club’s long road race from the North. After he had somewhat recovered from his fatigue, W. E. Grigg was decorated with the 116-mile South Australian Championship blue ribbon presented by the president of the league (Mr. Harrison), who heartily congratulated him upon his splendid performance. Mr. G. Brown, president of the Williamstown Bicycle Club, responded for Grigg. He said their club, which was about 130 strong, had five representatives in the race of those who started. A party of 20 had come to see the finish, and they were particularly proud of the performances of the Grigg brothers. The competitors were dispatched from the Burra at the arranged time, the limit man being sent away at 9 a.m. The field had thinned down considerably when Kapunda was reached, and the times clocked there were as follow:-Tobin, 12.50 p.m.; A. S. Grigg, 12.56; F. Lindquist, 2.4; Walter Grigg, 1.5; G. J. Tilley, 1.6; W. E. Grigg, S. Grivell, J. C. Beaney, J. T. Donohue, and E. P. Mariner, 1.16. Lindquist retired at this point. Mr. E. S. Hancock, representative of the League of Wheelmen, who had charge of the arrangements, reported that Donohue and Tobin were then very fresh, and he looked sure Tobin as, the winner. The following times were taken at Gawler, where Mrs. E. S. Churches and a ladies’ committee supplied the competitors with food:-A. S. Grigg, 4.6 p.m.; Tobin, 4.6½; W. Grigg, 4.13. Shortly after midday on Sunday, J.C. Beaney and about nine other competitors passed through Rosewater en route to their respective homes. They were all travel stained. Beaney reported having sustained a severe blow-out during the race to his back tire. The question of the sixth prize will have to be considered by the league council, but probably the cash will be evenly divided among the five placed men.

Another great cyclist from Williamstown Frederick Kennewell born 1902 though there were many from Williamstown completing in competitions

Jo’s Creative Journey
On display in the ‘Tea & Sugar’ Room.

JOANNE WAKE is a textile artist based in the Adelaide Hills, with a background in Children’s Services. “I have been inspired by the radiant creativity of small children, who keenly absorb the visual richness of their stimulating environment and honestly portray their innocent impressions through their artwork,” she explained. “Through the eyes of these children, I have discovered my own creative techniques though experimentation, freedom of expression and exploration in textile, fibre and natural dyeing. My search for fresh meaning of my art drives from my passion for vivid colours, shapes and forms inspired by nature.”

‘Jo’s Creative Journey’ textile and fibre art exhibition encapsulates Joanne’s personal and artistic development and growth since 2010. This artistic progression has been well supported by ongoing mentorship and creative guidance by well-known local artist Jelina Haines.

Joanne’s textile work has been exhibited successfully in South Australia and she was a finalist with the Royal South Australian Society of Arts. She is also an active member of the Ngarrindjeri Eco Art Co-op (NEAC), The Gawler Community Gallery and the Top of the Torrens Gallery at Birdwood.

Williamstown will be holding the annual town garage sale day on

Sat 6th February 2016

Approx 40 houses are registered

Maps will be issued at 7.30am from Hall for a gold coin donation

Williamstown Soldiers Memorial Hall will be hosting an egg & bacon/sausage sizzle/soft drink stall in front of hall
The WAP ladies have had a well-earned rest over the past few months and are gearing up for another great Pantomime later in the year. We held a drinks & potato crisps stall at the reserve corner of Victoria Tce & George St for the Tour Down Under. Unfortunately, like mostly everyone else, sales were a little down on what we were expecting due to the lack of spectators and the weird & wonderful weather we had. We’d like to say thank you to the following people for their help on the lead up to the event and on the day; Husbands Phil, Bruce, David & Derrick for ensuring the eskies were pre-cooled and ready for use; Mary & Duck for the use of their spare fridge to pre chill drinks; Suzanne, Joan & Brenda for keeping an eye out for cheap drinks and chips; Sue for purchasing lollipops; Louisa for the loan of her gazebo; Emily for helping on the day and being taste tester of lollipops; Adam & Kane for helping with heavy lifting and packing up at the end of the day; WAP members Margaret, Margie, Sue, Joan, Jill, Dawn (our official “Bell ringer”) and Suzanne for their attendance, setting up & dismantling on the day. A Big Thanks to all the spectators (mainly social bike riders) that frequented our stall and quenched their thirst as well as those who sat and had a chat with us while waiting for the race to come through.

The Tour Down Under stall was the first of our 2016 events raising money for our Stage Lighting System Fund which is currently sitting around the $8,000 mark. The next event will be a sausage sizzle, drinks & snacks on Feb 6 for the Williamstown Garage Sale Day. We’ll be set up at 60 Eva St so come along and have a drink & bite to eat with the friendly ladies of the WAP. They’ll be garage sale items available, as well as craft items made by some of the WAP ladies.

Other dates to mark on your calendar are Sunday 1 May which will be an afternoon tea fundraiser to celebrate the Queen’s 90th Birthday. Further details to follow in next month’s edition. Of course Panto will be held in October and dates will be confirmed after our AGM in March along with other fundraiser events and dates.

Our General meeting and AGM is on Tuesday 1 March starting at 9.30am sharp followed by lunch then script handout. If there are any ladies that are interested in joining us and would like to come along to see what we do, please ring Suzanne 85246411 or Babs 83891580 for further info. Looking forward to seeing you at one or all of our 2016 events.
“Congratulations to All concerned with the TDU - you did us proud. “Little Old Williamstown showed everyone just what we can do so watch out in the future, for further activities”.

Murray Dawson Memorial Gates – Located in Queen Victoria Jubilee Park, these wrought iron gates are mounted at what was the original entrance to the Park. The gates were accessed via a bridge which was later removed when it became unsafe for vehicular traffic and was replaced by the current ford.

Murray Dawson was born in Gawler in 1871, the son of James Dawson, a flour miller, his mother was from the local Murray family (Murray Vale). Murray was educated at St. Peters College and was still quite young when his father died leaving his son considerably wealthy (approx. 80,000 Pounds) so he decided he would go on the land. He spent 4 years at Cappedee where he gained valuable knowledge and experience

Murray put together Wirra Wirra Estate. Located on Wirra Wirra Road in the Barossa Ranges, the estate comprised undulating park-like country covered with fine timber which provided adequate shelter for cattle and sheep. A number of natural springs ensured a year round water supply. He was the first in the district to plant extensive apple orchards which at that time were reputed to be the largest in the Southern hemisphere. He also ran a well-known Merino Stud and Jersey herd and owned a large tract of land near Gawler known as “the Farm” (now the site of Trinity College)
In 1900 Murray designed and built Wirra Wirra homestead which cost 1000 pounds. He used local labourers and builders who would ride their push-bikes up from Williamstown to work on the construction. When the house was nearing completion he realised he had not made provision for a staircase to get to the upper level. A design change enabled the staircase to be built but it did weaken the floor on the upper level resulting in a close watch on the number of people allowed to dance on that floor at social events thereafter!

Planning for the future, on the Southern side of the house there was a two story wall with doorways and windows in it where he intended to build the nursery wing. Murray did marry Miss Annie Mitchell, a governess who worked at Murray Vale, but unfortunately there were never any children so the nursery was never completed. A large stable was added to the property and an apple shed where the fruit was wrapped and packed before being taken by dray to Gawler and then by train to the Port for shipping overseas.

In 1914 Murray’s entire apple crop was sent to Germany and was sitting in a freighter in Hamburg when Germany declared war. Consequently he received no payment for them and he suffered considerable financial hardship which he struggled to overcome.

As did many of the landholders at that time, Murray Dawson contributed much to the prosperity and development of the area and served on the District Council of Mt. Crawford as a councillor.

When Murray died in 1949, his wife sold the properties and returned to England to live. Wirra Wirra Estate changed hands twice before being broken up and sold off. The residence which we now know as Martinsell has recently been sold again. The Downer Family who owned it for approx. 42 years had made considerable alterations to the structure.

To help preserve his name in the district, Mrs. Dawson covered the costs incurred by the Williamstown Park Committee to have memorial gates manufactured and erected at the Park which itself had been purchased from the South Australian Company.

As Murray had been a member of the Mt. Crawford Polo Club, she also gave 500 pounds to the Mt. Crawford Polo Club which enabled the building of a polo ground on Cowell Road. There remains a plaque on this site today identifying the Murray Dawson Polo Ground. Construction of the Ground was carried out by members of the Cowell, Ross and Gordon families. Unfortunately it was found that the land was too sandy for polo as the ball was constantly pushed into the soft sand when trodden on by the horses so it was used as a practice ground only.

So that is a brief precis of the life of a man who became a significant part of the development of this district through his contribution to agriculture, an employer and community leader. There is no doubt that the memorial gates erected in his honour were well earned but a great shame that they have been left uncared for and are slowly but surely rusting away.

G'day folks

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Christmas has passed and so has January. We did manage to repair our 34P appliance which was damaged at the Pinery Fire so it was part of the Christmas Parade, along with our 24P appliance and the giant Smokey Bear float. Smokey Bear also came out again when the Tour Down Under came through town. As we were placed on active standby due to the event and weather, we were placed at the top of George Street, our own CFS Hill! Fortunately we were not called upon, unlike the previous day when the Women's Tour came through and there was a vehicle accident along the route between Williamstown and Lyndoch. Our crews had to extract some entrapments from a vehicle whilst the race continued by.

To date, our Brigade has had 60 call outs from July, which is about the same as this time last year. Our training continues weekly on a Wednesday night where we have been practicing our rural fire training; road crash recovery along with a MAP & GPS course. These weekly sessions help us all to work as a good team and to keep our skills up.

Please make sure you all have a BUSH FIRE action plan ready in case of emergency.

IF YOU HAVE TO REPORT AN EMERGENCY PLEASE CALL 000 FOR ANY OTHER ENQUIRY FEEL FREE TO CONTACT THE BRIGADE ON 8524 6405
